

OFFICIAL ENGLAND SURF KIT

TEAM COLOURS

Headworx, proud clothing sponsors of the England Surf Team, has released its official England Surf Collection. The range features hardwearing surf and leisure apparel developed in close consultation with the Headworx team of pro surfers, and the England Surf Team. With 30 years of heritage in the surfing marketplace Headworx has created an entirely new range of clothing to suit lifestyle enthusiasts and patriotic fans, whilst continuing to provide the functionality demanded by the hardcore surfer. The collection, featuring the English Surfing Federation's 'Lion' motif, is designed to fly the flag of English surf culture all the way from the beaches of Cornwall to surf spots across the globe.

Cost: From £20

LET THE BATTLE COMMENCE

KT NUTS GO GREEN WITH KT ACTIVE BOARDBAGS...

MCS GO TO WAR

Jump Off TV has launched first ever cross-continent, MC Battle League. Titled as the 'MC Street Battle Pairs League 2006' it is revolutionising Hip Hop, Sports and Entertainment through Internet TV (IPTV). The global format is taking place simultaneously across two divisions – London and New York, over a ten-week season.

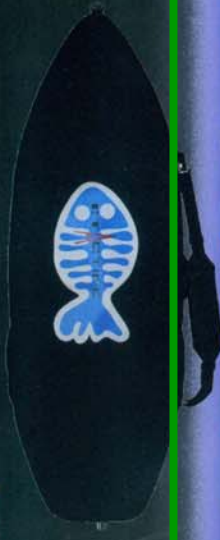

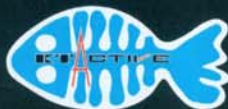

Established MCs pair up to form six teams of two in each division, there's no music and the competitors battle on the streets. The winners face off at an exotic, neutral location in September 2006 for the finals, where the overall champions are awarded $10,000 – tune in!

As essential to the surfer's arsenal as a board, wetsuit and utterly unreliable campervan, these KT Active board bags will protect your stick from beatings, batterings and rogue pets with attitude. But best of all, the KT Active bags are designed to minimise environmental impact by using Azo Dye free materials, so you're being good to Mother Nature too. Each comes with a wax comb, super comfy carry strap and extra padding in those vulnerable areas – safe as houses.
